50X1-HUM

1. [ ] the Anju-ri Branch of the Korean Labor Party in North Korea was in a house in a valley at FB-088766 near Najin (N 42-15, E 130-18) (FB-0876). The house was 8 meters long, 5 meters wide, and 5 meters high, with a Japanese-style tile roof and cement walls. Approximately 50 tall trees were 10 meters south of the house, which was the westernmost of a group of three houses. The Anju-ri Korean Labor Party consisted of four branch cells; the Anju-ri (FB-088766) Cell, the Najin-ni (FB-087723) Cell, the Hangno (FB-081767) Cell, and the Kanchin-ni (FB-087749) Cell. The four cell chiefs reported periodically to the Anju-ri Korean Labor Party chief. The Anju-ri Cell chief lived in a house in a valley at FB-088765. The house was 5 meters long, 3.5 meters wide, and 3 meters high, with a tin roof and mud walls. A playground was immediately east of the cell chief's house. Both cell meetings and staff meetings of the Anju-ri Cell were held at this house, twice each month.
2. [ ] the following persons were members of the Anju-ri Branch of the Korean Labor Party: 50X1-HUM
  - a. HAN Yong-chun (7281/1369/0193) [ ] formerly attached to the Najin Fisheries, was chief of the Anju-ri Korean Labor Party. HAN was the only paid executive member in the party. 50X1-HUM
